Press Release

From August 30 to September 1, 2019, Galerie Intervalle will participate in the second edition of Polyptyque, a contemporary photography fair held in Marseille at the Centre Photographique Marseille. Launched in 2018, Polyptyque is the first fair dedicated to contemporary photography outside of Paris, bringing together French and international galleries, local artists, and European publishers.

For this edition, Intervalle is presenting Olivier Degorce, Guillaume Delleuse, Julien Mignot, and Marta Zgierska. This selection brings together four distinct photographic approaches—ranging from documentary photography to personal narrative and formal exploration—and reflects the diversity of the gallery’s programming.

Intervalle’s participation also aligns with Polyptyque’s unique structure: the invited galleries form the fair’s artistic committee and help select the artists for the Polyptyque Prize, which is dedicated to the regional photography scene.
